BEMINARIES OF LEARNING, ETC., ETC. P. Lucas, Jr., of Baltimore, Maryland, has publish-Bd a well printed 12mo. volume, of about three huadred pages, called "The Metropolitan Catholic Almanac and Laity's Directory, 1854." The book con tains much interesting information relative to the progress of Catholicity in the United States, and we make some extracts from the summaries.

The entire Catholic population of the United States 1,732,600, in the jurisdiction of various arch-diocesses, as follows:- Baltimore, 377,500; New York, 425,000; New Orleans, 222,500; Cincinnati, 332,500; Oregon, 5,000; San Francisco, 75,000; Nebraska, &c., (Apostolic Vicar.) 5,300. In these arch diocesses, there are 41 diocesses, 1,712 churches, 746 other stations, 1,422 clergymen in ministry, 182 clergymen otherwise employed, 34 ecclesiastical institutions, 590 clerical students, 57 male religious institutions, 45 literary institutions for young men, 171 female religious institutions, 112 female academies, 131 charitable institutions. The total of the Catholic population is supposed to be understated, as the returns from many districts were incomplete. During 1853, there was an increase of 9 diocesses, 1 archbishop, 6 bishops, 113 priests, and 167 churches. The following shows the state of Catholicity in the United States, with the increase from 1808 up to the present

This table shows that from 1834 to 1844, the personal and material force of the church in the United States increased at the rate of about one hundred per cent; the number of diocesses, blehops, priests, churches, seminaries, colleges and female academies having aboutdoubled during that period. During the last ten years, nearly the came ratio is observable, except in the number of churches and priests; in these departments the ratio of churches and priests; in these departments the ratio of increase has been about 170 per cent. Archibiops and bishops are included in the same one meration. And eight hishops elset. If The districts of Fort Hall, &c., in Oregon, are not included in this table. [The faure of college expreses, as well as could be accertained, the incorporated institutions. [7] Neequally this year became an episcopal see.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MONEY MARKET.

WEDNESDAY, Jan 18 -- P. M. to-day there was great steadiness in prices. There appears to be no influence at work on the minds of operators strong enough to give a decided movement one way or the other. Holders are evidently able and willing to carry along their stocks, and the bears are unable to make very much impression upon the market value. At the first board Cumterland declined & percent; Harlem, &; Reading Ra ilroad, &; New Haven, & New York Central Rail road advanced & percent. Bap', Institutions. It is very seldom, even at this season of the year, that we experience for such a ler gth of time such a dull, heavy, depressed, gloomy, stupid stock market. We see no real cause for this strice of things, and cannot catisfactorily account for it. The bears continue their depressing mevements perseveringly, but without making much progress. The buils appear confident, and full of hope. They do not force stocks upon the market, and are evidently disposed to wait the cawn of better times. During the past two weeks the fluctuations have been exceedingly moderate, but the tendency throughout has

Mines and Mining.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 18-6 P. M. There was an active market this morning. Several hundred North Carolina sold at previous quotations, ranging from 5% to 5%. One hundred Potomac sold at I, with a rising tendency. Letters from the Tennessee mires of this company hold out very flattering prospects. rates of this company notations are rarying over 30 per cent for copper. The manager seems desirous of retaining the ore at the mine until the smelting works are erected, which will be in three or four months; but it is probable that the company will resolve on shipping the ore at once for this port. The manager of a neighborng mine is confident that the Isabella could send forward some two hundred tons of 30 per cent ore per month—the expense of extracting would not exceed $6 per ton. Small lots of Isle Royale, Toltee, and Algomah, sold this morning at 25, 12%, and 4%-the first being buyer twelve nonths. The sales of Phenix Gold continue to be large, months. The sales of Phenix Gold continue to be large, but without variation in price. Lehigh Zinc was offered at 2%; Ulster, at 1%; Winthrop, at 3; Deep River, at 40c; McGulloch, at 8%; Gold Hill, at 3. At the Brokers' Board 200 Falton sold at 1%. Cumberiand Coal fell off to 82%. Parker Vein barely sustained titeelf, at 6%. Phenix Gold, its the grainal progress of its downward course, sold to day at 10.

We find in a morning cotemporary the following statistics of the lake Superior Copper Mines:—

The copper export from the Lake Superior mines for the season of 1883 is stated at 2,855 toes, of the gross value of $1,014 cto. About 1.600 tons were ahipped to Cleveland, and 986 direct to New York. The value of the smel ed copper at Cleveland, when it is prepared for the Western ma kets, is about $600 par ton.

MINING BOARD, JAN, 18.

Weekly Review of the Dry Goods Trade.

New York, Jan. 18-6 P. M

We notice a pretty general improvement this week in the dry goods trace. The country buyers have been more willing to enter the market, and have partially supplied themselves with fabrics adapted to the early spring demand, at, in most cases, far prices. The city jobbers still refrain from making heavy purchas re likewise beginning to deal with increased boldness and spirit Shippers are not as active as usual about this time of the year, yet these, too, are extending their inquiries, and are apt to become quite soon very confident operators. In view of these circumstances, factors eught to be more courageous, for, with their well assort ed and manageable stocks, the apparent improbability, at least during this season, of any serious reaction in prices of desirable manufactures abroad or at home, and the prospect of an immediate and vigorous revival of business moven ents, there is very little ground for the supposition that this quarter's traffic will result otherwise than in a prosperous and satisfactory manner. Patience and prodence are the cardinal virtues which seliers are now alone called upon to exercise that they may attain their dearest objects. Let them not force their goods upon the market, nor dispose of such, on any co to suspicious characters, and they cannot fail to meet with comparative success in their pursuits. Brown sheetings and shirtings are tolerably freely, though irregularly, dealt in, at full previous quotations, atthough
